This bulletin is also available on the website of the SARL at www.sarl.org.za, on packet bulletin boards and on Echolink from Chris, ZS6FCS.

SILENT KEY

It is with regret that Council announces the passing of Philip Hartsliel ZS4PH on 17 March 2005 following a motor car accident. We extend our condolences to his mother, family and friends.

LAST VISIT TO SOUTH AFRICA ENDS IN TRAGEDY FOR UK COUPLE

Lee Grant, G3XNG was killed instantly when his car was involved in a high speed collision just outside Swellendam on 24 February this year. His wife Margaret died 3 weeks later from multiple injuries and complications.

Lee was born in Canada in 1922. Lee moved to the UK and took on the call G3XNG in honour of his step father. His love for South Africa started during the few years based at Wingfield, just outside Cape Town during which he was involved with installation of radio navigation equipment. Lee met Margaret at the RAF base at Bedford shortly after the war where she was a matron nursing sister.

For many years they visited South Africa which they loved dearly. He became quite proficient in using Afrikaans to speak to the people in the country. He used the call ZS1XNG during his frequent visits to his close friend Michael Warr, ZS1WA in Barrydale. This was to be their last visit to South Africa. What a pity it had to end like this. They have many friends all over the world who will remember them with affection.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT 7P8 CALL SIGNS

Leon Tromp, 7P8EK, President of the Lesotho Amateur Radio Society (LARS) told SARL News “It has come to my notice that some hams have publicly challenged hams with 7P8 call signs that they are pirates and that the cases would be reported to ICASA.

As President of the Lesotho Amateur Radio Society (LARS), I wish to state that the exams for amateur radio licensing adhere to strict international standards. The issue of licences are subject to final approval of Lesotho Telecommunications Authority after passing the ham exam. The Lesotho regulations make full provision for these arrangements and are strictly applied by my Society. Lesotho is a signatory to the IARU and adheres to world standards with respect to licensing.

Many 7P8 hams work in Lesotho but over weekends reside in South Africa. The repeater positioned at Ladybrand covers both Lesotho and South Africa and there is no law in either country to prevent hams from using it for cross border communications. This repeater is connected via Echolink on weekends.

It is with utter dismay that our secretary reported that he overheard a conversation between 7P8JB and 7P8BS being interrupted by a South African ham to state that 7P8JB, 7P8BS and myself 7P8EK are pirate stations and that we must be ignored. No further contacts through the Echolink were possible since we were then regarded as “pirates”. The fact that some ZS licensed hams have decided that they will adjudicate the validity of 7P8 call signs is not within their mandate and does not show the spirit of ham companionship encountered elsewhere. By the way, these hams are legally licensed ham operators.

I am also a member of the SARL and also hold a legal ZR call sign in addition to my 7P8 call sign. In my capacity as LARS President I feel obliged to strongly object to this type of behaviour and would further request that a general notice to be given to SARL members not to publicly broadcast their objection to so called ‘pirate’ 7P8 call signs. In the spirit of amateur radio we feel that this type of behaviour is uncalled for. The 7P8 hams have enjoyed good ham relationships with the ZS/ZR hams and wish that discussion, over the air, of these “illegal 7P8 operators” be stopped.

Please feel free to contact me any time if there is any doubt as to the validity of a 7P8 call sign. Swift action will taken by LARS against any illegal operators.”

PROPAGATION CONDITIONS

During this reporting week, sunspot counts were higher while geomagnetic indices were lower, a nice combination for HF operators. Average daily sunspot counts rose nearly 25 points to 60.7, and average daily solar flux increased nearly 22 points to 107.8. This is a nice time to have a few more sunspots, because we are approaching that magic time of the equinox. Despite the old urban legend, the task of balancing an upright egg does not become easier at the equinox, but these days are nice for HF propagation.

Sunlight is more evenly distributed across the northern and southern hemispheres, and it should be completely equal this Sunday, 20 March at 1233 UTC. That is the moment of the vernal equinox on the first day of spring for the northern hemisphere, and autumnal equinox for the southern hemisphere.

The outlook for the very near term is for sunspots and solar flux to decline very gradually from current values until 26 - 29 March, then rise back to current activity around 6 - 11 April. Geomagnetic conditions should be slightly unsettled for 18 - 19 March, but otherwise quiet after that.
